

Chairman, CIA Honor Awards Board

20 February 1953

General Counsel

National Security Medal

As usual, you don't know where they will come from next. I don't know what the answer is on this, but can it be answered by your friends in the Heraldic Office? If not, and you think a [redacted] is necessary, you might draft a simple one for Mr. [redacted]

[redacted] It might say something to the effect that if procurement on a scale outside the Government is decided upon, it will be by advertising, bid and award and the [redacted] will be included in such advertising. Then indicate that it is unknown when such procurement, if any, might be undertaken.
